

Pallet Return Program

What is this Program?

Kodak Polychrome Graphics (KPG) offers a Pallet Return Program in conjunction with Ongweoweh Corporation. The Pallet Return Program is specially designed to help graphic arts customers recycle designated KPG wooden pallets. Customers simply call Ongweoweh to coordinate the quantity and type of pallets that they would like to return. Once all the criteria to return pallets are met, Ongweoweh will coordinate the pickup and shipment of pallets to KPG at no cost to the customer. It's as easy as that. The returned pallets are then either reused by KPG or recycled.

Who is Ongweoweh?

A Native American owned company headquartered in Ithaca, NY. They are a leader in the retrieval and reverse logistics market utilizing the latest technologies. Log on to their web site at www.ongweoweh.com for further information. The pallet return coordinator is Christine Burton who can be reached at (800) 611-8743 ext. 819.

What are the Benefits of Participating?

By participating in this Pallet Return Program, you will be helping the environment by reducing the amount of waste that goes into landfills. This program is much easier than trying to discard pallets because all you have to do is contact Ongweoweh at (800) 611-8743, meet the requisite criteria, and your pallets will be removed your site at no cost to you.

How do I sign up?

To see if you're eligible to participate in this program, contact the KPG Pallet Return Program Coordinator at Ongweoweh at (800) 611-8743 ext. 819. You may also contact the KPG EnviroServices Hotline at (877) KPGraphics.
