

RealTimeProof Testimonial: Printer

Sandy Alexander

Sandy Alexander, Inc. is one of the country's most respected full service graphic communication companies, serving the corporate communication, cosmetic, pharmaceutical, automotive, graphic design, advertising, and promotion industries.

V.P. of business development Mike Graf uses RealTimeProof technology to keep his presses running at capacity while providing better service to customers. It even helps him land new business.

"I don't have to tell you what the cost of a 6-color web standing still is. We can get that last minute change approved, so we don't have downtime. Client after client, we have saved the day and been a hero," says Mike.

Mike also premiered the RealTimeProof solution at his company's annual technology demo. "RealTimeProof online proofing stole the show," according to Mike. One prospective client was so impressed that they asked Sandy Alexander to quote on their job — a bid that Sandy Alexander eventually won over 40 competitors.

Mike Graf
V.P. of Business Development

"Client after client,
we've saved the day
and been a hero."

RealTimeProof[™]